

SCJEA Scholarships

The Southern California Journalism Education Association is looking for four graduating seniors to honor for their accomplishments on their high school newspaper and yearbook staffs with the following scholarships:

Ted Tajima Scholarship Award $1000

Ted Tajima was the adviser at Alhambra High School for 35 years, a founder of SCJEA, and adviser to many current professional journalists. In addition, he served as national vice-president of JEA and president of SCJEA. The Moor, then a weekly newspaper, was a perennial NSPA All-American. He was a mentor to many advisers. He is retired and lives in Altadena.

Carol Hallenbeck Scholarship Award $500

Carol Hallenbeck for 20 years advised the Accolade at Sunny Hills High School in Fullerton. The newspaper won awards at many levels. She was a frequent speaker at state and national conventions and a co-editor of Practical Ideas for Teaching Journalism, a book with lessons for journalism and yearbook advisers. She was a leader in Orange County JEA and SCJEA. In her retirement, she loves to travel and is a docent at the Bowers Museum in Santa Ana.

Betty Rogers Scholarship Award 2 @ $250

Betty Rogers was the adviser to the Lancer Scroll at Bell Gardens High School. For many years she was the link to Southern California newspaper and yearbook advisers because she served as treasurer for the organization, handling dues, tracking registration and being a faithful supporter of scholastic journalism.
